

Bible Study: February 10,2019 Seeing Black & White in A Gray World
 By: Bill T. Arnold Chapter 2, “Falwell or Sponge? Really?!”, Part 2.

PAGE NO	STATEMENT	CONCEPT FOR DISCUSSION	BIBLE REFERENCE
44	I agree with Adam that a balanced view of the relationship between science and religion accepts them as “partners in a quest for knowledge”.	Knowledge	OPEN DISCUSSION
48	Adam Hamilton also embraces theistic evolution and offers it as another example of seeing gray.	Knowledge	Sources of: 1. God: Psalm 94:10 2. Nature: Psalm 19:2 3. Scriptures: 2 Tim 3:15 4. Doing God’s Will: John 7:17
48	In my own experience, dialogue/debate on this question is not about compromise, or somehow finding middle ground between science and religion.	Knowledge	OPEN DISCUSSION
48	Liberal Christians are described as seeing Jesus as a revolutionary, while conservative Christians emphasize Jesus as personal Savior and Lord.	Kinds of Knowledge	1. Natural: Matt 24:32 2. Deceptive: Gen. 3:5 3. Sinful: Gen. 3:7 4. Personal: Joshua 24:31 5. Practical: Ex 36:1 6. Experimental: Ex 14: 4, 18 7. Friendly: Ex 1:8 8. Intuitive: 1 Sam 22:22 9. Intellectual: John 7: 15, 28 10. Saving: John 17:3 11. Spiritual: 1 Cor 2:14 12. Revealed: Luke 10:22 OPEN DISCUSSION 1. Revolutions Luke 21:9 2. Revelation – an uncovering of something hidden. Source: A. God Daniel 2: 28 – 47. B. Christ John 1:18 C. Holy Spirit: 1 Cor. 2:10 D. Not in man: Matt 16:17